4-H helps young people grow and develop by providing hands-on activities. To provide this experience, many communities and schools have ongoing organized 4-H community clubs. These clubs are conducted by local trained community leaders. Clubs are expected to develop a club calendar that outlines age-appropriate educational and social activities that will occur during the year. Adults and 4-H’ers work together to plan the club calendar with educational programs. Clubs are also designed to allow members to have opportunities to develop leadership skills by electing officers. Not only are members learning simple parliamentary procedures and flag etiquette, but also enhancing their self-esteem. Members of a community club have diverse interests and decide as a group what kind of programming and projects they will participate in during the year.

4-H CLUBS IN CURRITUCK COUNTY

4-H Together Time - club meets at the North Star Lodge Hall in the Moyock area the second Saturday each month. Members are between 9 - 13 and are engaged in a variety of activities.
Leader - Erline Jones and Rhonda Jones

Tailwaggers 4-H Dog Agility Club - club members main focus is on training dogs to compete in agility competitions. Members attend seminars, day trips, special events and trials. They meet at the Barking Barn located on Tulls Creek Road.
Leaders- Debbie Torres, Tamara Harms, Lynn Davis

Currituck County Council - members include representatives from each club and other interested teens. They meet every other month to participate in additional leadership opportunities and help make decisions on county-wide activities.
Leader - Ellen Owens

Trailblazers - members meet at Shawboro Ruritan Club the second Saturday of each month. Club leaders plan a variety of projects, field trips, and other activities.
Leaders: Wendy and Randy Roberts

Mighty Mallards - a club that meets at Griggs Elementary School. Members are learning about all 4-H curriculum areas. They also maintain the flower beds at Griggs Elementary School as a community service project.
Leader - Debbie Dowdy

Transformers - community club for youth ages 5-10; meets at Griggs Elementary School. Club members complete a variety of projects, field trips and activities.
Leader - Tina Sauls

Sandy Boots - a club for youth ages 5 - 12 and meets at Powells Point Nutrition Center. Leaders utilize horse curriculum and participate in clinics, workshops and local horse shows.
Leaders - Kim and Glen Wickre

Seeking Success - is a horse project club that meets at the Powells Point Nutrition Site or the leaders home in Brayview Landing. Members engage in a variety of activities including project books, presentations, horse judging, and horse bowl.
Leader: Kathy Pugh and Gale Durbin

Junior Master Gardeners - a project club for youth interested in learning more about gardening and environmental projects. Members will also plant and maintain a garden at the Powells Point Nutrition Site.
Leader: Open

Sew and Go - a sewing club for cloverbuds to learn basic sewing skills. Members have also participated in the County Fashion Revue.
Leaders - Tanya Neeland and Danielle Neeland

Carolina Shooters - members learn about the different types of target sports and how to use equipment safely.
Leaders - Fred Schoenewerk, Ashley Brown

Livestock Club - members of this club participate in Jackpot Shows, NC State Fair, and the Albemarle Area Livestock Show and Sale. Animals raised include: goats, lambs, hogs and steers. Members learn about care and raising of animals, judging, showmanship and record keeping.
Leaders - Randy and Wendy Roberts

Kids-N-Play - Afterschool club that meets in local day care. Youth complete projects in the 4-H Discovery projects, take field trips and have guest speakers.
Leader - Millicent Gerni

Blue Ribbon Riders - members are 9 - 18 and engage in a variety of horse activities including project books, presentations and horse shows. They also have a drill team that performs at county, district, state and regional horse competitions.
Leaders - Terry Temple and Michaele Overman

For more information or phone numbers to reach club leaders please call Sandy Conner, 4-H Program Associate at 252-232-2262 or e-mail sandra_conner@ncsu.edu

Currituck County Center